Photoshop mock up not an actual photo of location.

The distance from witnesses seemed to be much further than the most distant buildings to the north. It was too high to be hidden by the distant buildings but low enough to pass behind the nearer buildings and disappeared behind buildings in the west. Total transit from 1st sighting out over the water to loss of sighting to the west was 8 seconds and 90 degrees horizontal.